TO PROPERTY OWNERS NOW RETURNING NORTH

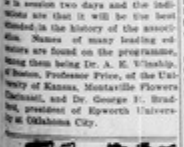

This now is an opportune time to remind winter residents, and par-ticularly the owners of unimproved property within the city limits, that it would be a wise plan to leave with the city engineer a charge to see that it is properly looked after and the sanitary ordinance in regard to cutting of weeds and grass complied with.

By making a provision of this kind the city officials will be saved much unnecessary trouble and the prop-erty owner will be saved the extra expense which follows the necessity of the city having to take the matter in charge and see that the work is done.

This should be acted upon not only in case of residence property but al-so where vacant lots are owned by parties not here during the summer, when weeds and grass grow much more rapidly than in the winter sea-son.

THE LAST ISSUE OF THE SEASON.

WITH THIS NUMBER THE DAILY NEWS RETIRES FROM THE FIELD UNTIL NEXT SEASON.

With this issue, the Daily News season of 1909-10 comes to a close and the Daily enters upon its summer hibernation.

Upon the suspension of the Daily News last season the management foresaw several important improve-ments in the mechanical department of the paper and promised a bigger and better paper for this season if the necessary support was forth coming from the business men and public generally and that that sup-port was not withheld this copy of the Daily News bears witness.

The Daily issued last winter won the confidence of the public in the ability of the management to furnish Daytona with a season Daily that would be a credit to the city and it also proved to the business men the advantage to be derived from adver-tising that reached the public fresh from the press each day and search-ed out the purchaser of goods from among the tourists and regular resi-dents.

In several instances it awakened business men, who were professed-ly non advertisers, to the value of advertising, when attractively put before the public, and they have this season reaped the reward of their change of view and have freely and gladly acknowledged the worth of the Daily as an advertising medium.

That the paper has pleased the public, generally, is proved by the largely increased subscription list of this season, the fact that subscrib-ers were eagerly awaiting its issue and any failure to reach them was quickly reported, as well as the many complimentary expressions heard of the Daily this season.

As foretold last season, the Daily has been enlarged and improved in several ways. The telegraphic ser-vice has been increased and much more local matter furnished its read-ers than last season. The "type" has been set by the promised ma-chine and other improvements made in the mechanical department.

The Daily News this season has ad-vertised Daytona as it was never advertised before. It has been placed upon the reading table of every hotel in Florida and has gone broadcast throughout the whole country, North, East, West and South, bearing tidings of the East Coast and beautiful Day-tona.

The Daily News fully appreciates the support extended to the paper this winter and bespeaks a continu-ance of the same for next season, promising to keep the paper up to its present standard and make such further improvements as conditions will justify.

In the meantime, the fact that a good, newsy weekly is issued through the summer should not be forgotten by either business men or winter vis-itors, for the former, The Gazette-News will continue to furnish a re-minder to the public that they are still in business, and to the latter it will carry the happenings of Dayto-na wherever they may stray.

And with this last reminder and best wishes for all patrons and read-ers of the Daily News, we say adieu until next season.

WORK ON CITY ISLAND SOON TO BE RESUMED.

ISLAND PARK COMMITTEE MET TUESDAY NIGHT AND DISCUSS-ED PLANS AND FINANCES.

The Island Park committee of the City Council and Civic Department of the Palmetto Club met Tuesday eve-ning and discussed the continuance of the work of improvement of the City Island and the disposition of the funds on hand for that purpose. J. N. Gamble was present by invita-tion and offered some good sugges-tions. Mr. Gamble has done much to-ward the improvement of the island.

Alderman Mills stated that the Dredge Kendrick, which has been un-dergoing some repairs, would soon be ready for work.

Two hundred dollars had been ap-propriated by the city council toward the work and it was decided to add to this three hundred dollars, from the fund raised at the fake carnival, to be used in drawing in the material last thrown out around the edges of the island and completing the fill of the south portion up to the southern side of the lake.

After the deduction of this $200, there still remains in the ladies' hands something more than $200, which they propose to devote to beautifying the southern part of the island as soon as the work of filling in is has been completed.

W. M. MOORE LOSES A VALUABLE HORSE.

W. M. Moore, of Ridgewood avenue, lost one of his draught horses last night, which is supposed to have been poisoned by eating too freely of Jerusalem oak. The mare appear-ed to be all right at feeding time on Wednesday morning, but shortly af-terwards was noticed by the family to be in great distress, and after she once set down was not able to get up again, and died about nine o'clock last night. Dr. French was called in but the poison had done its work too well to be corrected. The horse had been on dry food all winter, but the night previous Mr. Moore had pastured both horses on a vacant pasture near the house, and the horse must have gotten a dose of some poisonous herb.

A horse became frightened of an automobile yesterday afternoon about five o'clock, at the railroad depot, and ran away, scattering the contents of the wagon and breaking a wheel and other parts of the wagon by bringing it into contact with a hitching post in front of the electric light plant.

The wagon belonged to Mr. May-berry, of Second avenue and the horse was owned by Charley Moore, a colored man who was hauling cel-ery for the packers office for Messrs. Stickler & Zeigler.

The man was on the depot platform taking the celery from the wagon when the horse started and was un-able to reach the lines or check the animal. After breaking loose from the wagon, the horse ran south on Ridgewood avenue and was stopped by someone and tied in the neighbor-hood of the Plaza hotel.

CENTENARY OF ADMIRAL ALDEN

WASHINGTON, March 31—Among naval officers and students of naval affairs and history there were few to recall the fact that today marked the centenary of the birth of Rear Admiral James Alden who achieved high distinction during his service of over forty-five years in the United States navy. Born in Portland, Me., March 31, 1810, Admiral Alden enter-ed the navy as a midshipman in 1826. Ten years later he was a member of the Wilkes expedition which made a tour of the world. He took part in the naval operations of the war with Mexico and was one of the Farragut's most trusted officers at Vicksburg and Mobile. In his long service after the civil war Admiral Alden served as commandant of the Mare Island na-vy yard, as chief of the Bureau of Navigation and as commander of the European squadron. HOPE TO AVERT BIG STRIKE.

LONDON, March 31—Although to-morrow is the date set for the inau-guration of the great strike of coal miners in South Wales there is still hope that the threatened struggle may be averted or at least delayed for some time to come. The Miners' Fed-eration of Great Britain has taken the matter up with the mine owners with a view to extending the existing agree-ment indefinitely while negotiations are continued for a new agreement. Should the negotiations be broken off and a general strike declared it would mean that 200,000 miners would be thrown out of employment, with the prospect that the strike would eventually affect five times that num-ber, including railway and dock em-ployes and others dependent upon the collieries.

A PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING.

TWO PROMINENT SOCIETY RESI-DENTS OF TORONTO, CANADA, MARRIED IN DAYTONA.

A pretty little romance of "Love's Young Dream" which has interested the guests at The Despland for sev-eral weeks past, culminated this af-ternoon at 3:00 o'clock, in a quiet wedding between William E. Radcliff and Miss Anne Edwards Campbell, both of Toronto, Canada.

The bride was attired in a trav-eling suit of rajah silk, three-piece, and wore a large black hat trimmed in white willow plumes; she wore white gloves and carried a white pray-er book in her hand. The groom was dressed in the conventional black. As they marched up the aisle M. P. Campbell played Lohengrin's Wed-ding March.

Standing in front of the altar un-der an exquisite arch of bridal roses with roses banked at the right and left of them, Rev. A. J. Wilder pro-nounced in his impressive way, the beautiful Episcopal ceremony which made them man and wife. During the signing of the register, Miss Catherine Radcliffe, sister of the groom, played Ich Dirage Meinne Vor Wonne Stum, by Richard Strass. Im-mediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Radcliff left on the 4:51 train for Toronto, via. New York. Only the immediate friends of the families were present.

Miss Campbell is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Campbell, of Toron-to, with whom she has been spend-ing the winter at The Despland. The groom is a nephew of Mrs. L. M. Waite.

CENTENARY OF ADMIRAL ALDEN

WASHINGTON, March 31—Among naval officers and students of naval affairs and history there were few to recall the fact that today marked the centenary of the birth of Rear Admiral James Alden who achieved high dsitinction during his service of over forty-five years in the United States navy. Born in Portland, Me., March 31, 1810, Admiral Alden entered the navy as a midshipman in 1828 Ten years later he was a member of the Wilkes expedition which made a tour of the world. He took part in the naval operations of the war with Mexico and was one of the Farragut's most trusted officers at Vicksburg and Mobile. In his long service after the civil war Admiral Alden served as commandant of the Mare Island navy yard, as chief of the Bureau of Navigation and as commander of the European squadron. His death occurred in San Francisco February 6, 1877.

HOPE TO AVERT BIG STRIKE.

LONDON, March 31—Although tomorrow is the date set for the inauguration of the great strike of coal miners in South Wales there is still hope that the threatened struggle ma be averted or at least delayed for some time to come. The Miners' Federation of Great Britain has taken the matter up with the mine owners with a view to extending the existing agreement indefinitely while negotiations are continued for a new agreement. Should the negotiations be broken off and a general strike declared it would mean that 200,000 miners woul be thrown out of employment , with the prospect that the strike would eventually affect five times that number, including railway and dock employes and others dependent upon the colleries.

A PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING.

TWO PROMINENT SOCIETY RESIDENTS OF TORONTO, CANADA, MARRIED IN DAYTONA.

A pretty little romance of "Love's Young Dream" which has interested the guests at The Despland for several weeks past, culminated this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, in a quiet wedding between William E. Radcliff and Miss Anne Edwards Campbell, both of Toronto ,Canada.

The bride was attired in a traveling suit of rajah silk, three-piece, and wore a large black hat trimmed in white willow plumes; she wore white gloves and carried a white prayer book in her hand. The groom was dressed in the conventional black. As they marched up the aisle M. P. Campbell played Lohengrin's Wedding March .

Standing in front of the altar under an exquisite arch of bridal roses with roses banked at the right and left of them, Rev. A. J. Wilder pronounced in his impressive way, the beautiful Episcopal ceremony which made them man and wife. During the signing of the register, Miss Catherine Radcliffe, sister of the groom, played Ich Strage Meinne Vor Wonne Stum, by Richard Straus. Immediately after the ceremony and Mrs. Radcliff left on the 4:03 train for Toronto, via. New York. Only the immediate friends of the families were present.

Miss Campbell is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Campbell, of Toronto, with whom she has been spending the winter at The Despland. The groom is a nephew of Mrs. L. M. Waite.

ONE COLORED MAN CARVES UP ANOTHER.

John Washington and Bruce Thomas, two gentlemen of color, became involved in a quarrel last night and Thomas was rather badly cut up by Washington. The latter is under $100 bond to appear before Justice H. T. Titus tomorrow for a preliminary hearing.

AUTOMOBILE FOR HIRE
4-Cylinder Stevens-Duryea Car.... By the Hour, Day or Trip.....
S. W. O'BRIEN Phone 114

By L. C. DEMAREE.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon th beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bride to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss away as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artists' brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryptogamous forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another, so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering, "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which elicits attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the finishing touches which have wrought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for the pavements, pavements that look and act like granite, —where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruit.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "flowers and squirrels, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare goober there is a bunny ready to come and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and knaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers. Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of varigated hues predominate; another household has a penchant for the poinsetta and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds fit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, proficiency and all desirable qualities would truly astonish you.

The Fastest Autos and The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or Timbuckto, and you will be "shown." Here is where the world's record for speed is broken with every recurring season. Autos, the biggest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousands of flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horse power, up to a 200-horse power, and all degrees of speed from scooter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit, when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down into your wallet only for coin for autos, and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

SEABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH, two enterprising and progressive towns on the Halifax Peninsula, are geographically one, although incorporated as separate municipalities. The towns parallel the peninsula north and south for a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the surging seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide-water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communication by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The mean average temperature, [illegible] degrees in the summer and 70 degrees in the winter, with an occasional extra rise or drop of a few days' duration, marks this as one of the most healthful locations in any section of the country, north, east, south or west.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth and air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straight-away record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The sand of this famous speedway is composed largely of the shells of the coquina clam, which are about one-half inch long and very thin. For ages Nature has been rolling them up, washing them back into the surf and pulverizing them. Examined under the microscope each particle is round, unfit for mortar, builders say, because its smoothness prevents its holding together, yet, strange to contemplate, the very moment a wave leaves the wet, apparently soft beach, these round particles settle down into a cement almost as hard as asphalt, beyond the comprehension of one who has not seen it. Repairs are unnecessary, as twice each 24 hours it is entirely rebuilt by the tides. The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet, and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobiling some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors.

Seabreeze contains a handsome opera house and a Congregational Church; at Daytona Beach is a M. E. Church. An excellent high school is situated near the division line between the two towns. Both towns have enterprising business establishments, as is evidenced by the advertisements on the left and right.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy. Flowering shrubs have been planted, which are covered with a wealth of bloom both summer and winter.

Work of rebuilding the Clarendon hotel is now in progress. This magnificent fire-proof structure, which is to contain 250 rooms, when completed will be the peer of any hotel in Florida. The site is immediately north of the clubhouse of the Florida East Coast Automobile Association.

The Ocean Pier is a great attraction to fishermen and it is found summer and winter with enthusiastic disciples of Izaak Walton, who find it nothing unusual to land fish weighing several hundred pounds.

SEABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH, two enterprising and progressive towns on the Halifax Peninsula, are geographically one although incorporated as separate municipalities. The towns parallel the peninsula north and south for a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the surging seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide-water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communion by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The mean average temperature. 80 degrees in the summer and 70 degrees in the winter, with an occasional extra rise or drop of a few days' duration, marks this as one of the most healthful locations in any section of the country, north, east, south or west.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth and air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straightaway record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The sand of this famous speedway is composed largely of the shells of the coquina clam, which are about one-half inch long and very thin. For ages Nature has been rolling them up, washing them back into the surf and pulverizing them. Examined under the microscope each particle is round, unfit for mortar, builders say, because its smoothness prevents its holding together, yet, strange to contemplate, the very moment a wave leaves the wet, apparently soft beach, these round particles settle down into a cement almost as hard as asphalt, beyond the comprehension of one who has not seen it. Repairs are unnecessary, as twice each 24 hours it is entirely rebuilt by the tides. The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet, and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobiling some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accomodation for all winter visifors.

Seabreeze contains a handsome opera house and a Congregational Church; at Daytona Beach is a M. E. Church. An excellent high school is situated near the division line between the two towns. Both towns have enterprising business establishlishments, as is evidenced by the advertisements on the left and right.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenominal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth, The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy. Flowering shrubs have been planted, which are covered with a wealth of bloom both summer and winter.

Work of rebuilding the Clarendon hotel is now in progress. This magnificent fire-proof structure, which is to contain 250 rooms, when completed will be the peer of any hotel in Florida. The site is immediately north of the clubhouse of the Florida East Coast Automobile Assocsation.

The Ocean Pier is a great attraction to fishermen and it is lined summer and winter with enthusiastic disciples of Iziak Walton, who find it nothing unusual to land fish weighing several hundred pounds.

PROGRESSIVE NEW SMYRNA

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the State of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accomodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the State is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

New Smyrna has no bonded indebtedness and the tax levy is low.

A point that no tourist should fail to visit is the ruins of the Old Spanish Mission which stand somber and alone about one and a quarter miles southwest of New Smyrna. A good road leads to the place and the trip can be easily made by an automobile. Silent, in the great pine flats by the margin of the forest, is this place of pilgrimage for the pious; this rendezvous for the picnicker. The ruins are extensive, and while there is no authentic history of their origin, it is presumed that the Mission was built by the Franciscans in the days when the once powerful Kingdom of Spain first planted its flag upon what is now American soil. It was built of coquina, the roof being of the same material, cut into thin slabs and covered with cement plaster. Extensive gardens surrounded it, which were enclosed by a stone wall, portions of which still remain. Visitors usually come in parties merry and curious but the spell of the place soon falls upon them and they separate to sit alone, silent and meditative, under the arches or beside the ancient wall.

CORONADO

Is situated on the peninsula opposite New Smyrna and is connected by a good road and bridge over the deep current of Indian River. Here you can put aside your conventional garb, breathe in large and deep the salty tonic of the sea and enjoy yourself to your heart's content with rod and reel in row or sail boat or in the ocean surf a short half-mile away. The great varieties of fish inhabiting the river and lagoon pass through the channel from the sea beneath the bridge. From verandas, upper balconies and windows you behold the magnificent river, the distant lagoons and islands, the forest-covered peninsula and the vast reaches of the Atlantic Ocean.

HAWKS PARK

A pretty village located along the ridge above the Indian River two and one-half miles south of New Smyrna and connected with fine shell roads. There is the appearance of newness, comfort and seclusion about the place which stamps it as the abode of people who come here to enjoy the blessings of outdoor life away from places where crowds are apt to gather.

ORMOND-ON-THE-HALIFAX

ORMOND is five miles north of Daytona, located on the western bank of the Halifax River. The location of the town permits of good drainage and perfect sanitation; the elevation is superb and ideal for winter homes. A wide bridge connects Ormond with Ormond Beach.

Many fine residences are maintained on either side of the river, most of them embellished with subtropical flora and shrubbery, besides thrifty orange and other citrus fruit trees.

The town is very cosmopolitan, has an excellent graded school, several churches, a fine public library, up-to-date places of business and comfortable and convenient hotels and boarding houses.

Ormond has many of the Florida attractions—fine fruit, good fishing, excellent automobiling, safe boating, salubrious climate and pleasant walks and drives.

At Ormond Beach is located the large Hotel Ormond, and its lesser sister, Bretton Inn. The former occupies a position overlooking the Halifax River, while the latter has as its outlook the magnificent beach and the broad Atlantic.

The walks in all directions are particularly attractive, and the arbors, shady and inviting spots and romantic nooks are crowded with rustic seats which are mute invitations to enter into the enjoyment thereof.

Besides the broad, smooth ocean beach there are many drives for carriage or automobile—long drives and short drives; drives through groves of golden oranges; drives through dense tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient Causeway built by the slaves of planters of long ago, and drives to the plantations of hospitable settlers, whose places are replete with the interest of Southern fruits and flowers.

One of these interesting plantations is Number Nine, located on the peninsula, five miles north of the Hotel Ormond. Here you see a fine orange grove, together with great variation of other sub-tropical fruits and flowers.

Five miles farther on you come to Moundgrove, one of the finest orange groves in this section of Florida. Moundgrove is on the headwaters of the Halifax River and is amid pretty surroundings. The place is reached by a good road [passing Number Nine] and is a drive all tourists may enjoy.

PICTURESQUE PORT ORANGE

PORT ORANGE is a pretty little village situated five miles south of Daytona on the Daytona-New Smyrna hard-surface road, the scenic highway of the East Coast. The town is located on the Halifax River, over which spans a bridge from the town to the peninsula opposite.

The town is well laid out and has many pretty homes owned and occupied by residents and winter tourists. It has several churches, one of the best graded schools in Volusia county, two general stores, a real estate agency and two or three hotels.

A large number of tourists and winter residents make Port Orange winter headquarters, one of the several attractions being the excellent fishing. Port Orange is in the orange belt and a number of very fine citrus groves are nearby, where oranges, tangerines and grape-fruit hang in profusion. Some of the best trucking land in the State is to be found thereabout and excellent crops are raised.

West of Port Orange a short distance are the remains of the old Dunlawton sugar mill, a spot that is visited every year by hundreds of tourists. At one time all the country west of Port Orange, surrounding the old mill, was a vast sugar-cane and indigo plantation. The mill was operated extensively in those days but has been in disuse for thirty or forty years.

A pretty automobile or carriage drive from Daytona is via the ocean beach to the approach of the Port Orange bridge, across the bridge and then passing through Port Orange to the ruins of the celebrated old sugar mill, returning to Daytona by the road on the mainland. This drive affords a very pleasing variety of scenery.

DELAND, THE ATHENS OF FLORIDA

DeLAND, the county seat of Volusia County, is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surface road recently constructed.

At DeLand is located the John B. Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational DeLand is known as "The Athens of Florida."

Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $600,000 in buildings and equipment; nearly $300,000 endowment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $120,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $60,000. Elizabeth Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 3,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. DeLand proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida.

The predominating products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 300,000 boxes this year. Grapes, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons, plums, pecans, guavas, strawberries and other fruits are grown in plenty.

In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at little cost.

Nine houses of worship testify that DeLand is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented.

The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to DeLand is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute.

From DeLand automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from DeLand to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from DeLand to Lake Helen, a like distance.

LAKE HELEN

Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY

The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

DeLAND, the county seat of Volusia County, is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surface road recently constructed.

At DeLand is located the John B. Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational DeLand is known as "The Athens of Florida."

Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $400,000 in buildings and equipment; nearly $300,000 endowment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $120,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $60,000. Elizabeth Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 3,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. DeLand proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida.

The predominating products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 300,000 boxes this year. Grapes, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons, plums, pecans, guavas, strawberries and other fruits are grown in plenty.

In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at little cost.

Nine houses of worship testify that DeLand is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented.

The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to DeLand is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute.

From DeLand automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from DeLand to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from DeLand to Lake Helen, a like distance.

LAKE HELEN

Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY

The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, March 31—The sequel to a brief, congenial acquaintance and quick courtship were consumated in a quiet wedding at the Kingston parsonage Sunday afternoon, March 27th, at half past four o'clock, when J. L. Springer, of Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Charlotte K. Green, of Fargo, N. D., were joined in holy wedlock by Rev. D. D. Diefenwerth, in the presence of the members of his household only. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Springer, after an hour or so in friendship, returned to Daytona Beach and are housekeeping in the pleasant little cottage on South Valley street, belonging to A. J. Beardsley, which Miss Green, with her brother Walter, had been occupying during the season.

Jerome and Leo Burgman entertained a number of their friends with a boat party on Tuesday evening. On reaching the Tomoka the party landed at a certain point, built a camp fire and had a royal good time sitting around the fire partaking of the tempting luncheon, which included ice cream and cake, and afterwards telling over school day escapades, and their breadth escaped from the atrocious wrath of the pedagogue. Those enjoying the occasion were the three Misses Peirson, Misses Everenden, and Burgman, and Messrs Ronald Wetherby, Jerome and Leo Burgman and Wesley Herrick, who was in charge of the boat.

The Princess Issena has a houseful of guests and as yet has not called in the roomers placed in the cottages. The season has been the best yet for this beautiful home hotel, and it has won a host of new friends who have made reservations for next season.

Among these books are a full volume of Shakespeare, several volumes of Dickens, Darwin, complete set of Tennyson's and Longfellow's poems, etc. A gift like this to a small reading room struggling through its first year's existence is a gift indeed, and the people of Seabreeze will long cherish a warm regard for the giver of a gift so opportune.

ITCHING ECZEMA WASHED AWAY.

Is it worth 25 cents to stop that awful agonizing itch? Surely you will spend 25 cents on your druggist's recommendation, to cool and heal and soothe that terrible itching eruption?

By arrangement with the D. D. D. Laboratory of Chicago, we are able to make a special offer of a 25 cent bottle of their oil of wintergreen compound, known as D. D. D. Prescription. Call, or write or telephone to Hankins' Drug Store.

We absolutely know that the itch is stopped at once by D. D. D. Prescription and the cures all seem to be permanent.

TO FIND FAULT.

People Are Sometimes Paid For That Express Purpose.

You have no idea how many things are wrong in a big business until you are paid to look for them, writes Gelett Burgess in Collier's. There were the clocks, for one thing, when I first began. The girls were too many rats in their hole, there was grease on the elevator doors, expensive lots were dumped one on another, the ventilation was bad, the letters on the shelves showed from the street through their show windows and about a thousand other things. Then Spendthrift sold carpets just like our eighteen cent ones for 14 cents, and for a concern like Smith & Co. to be undersold is fatal. There's really nothing that so enrages Mr. Smith, also Rubinstein's window dresser has beaten ours, too, at times. Down it goes in my little report. Wouldn't any woman love my job.

Yes, it's fun to be paid for being a busybody, but it's hard work. From 9 o'clock I begin my promenade through the store—downstairs, upstairs, basement, attic and annex. If a girl at the counter has dirty finger nails or too wide a pompadour to suit me I stop and talk pleasantly, buy 9 cents' worth of edging and so get her number from the sales slip. She never knows anything about it till her superintendent gives her a scolding the next day. I have eyes like a hawk and a nose like a hound and ears like a small boy under the sofa when a young man's calling on big sister. In ten minutes I have spotted the dust in the corner of the aisle, a girl who wears brass bracelets, a porter who is not attending to his duty, a badly arranged counter, an error in spelling on a placard, two store detectives loafing on their job and a hideous combination of colors in the front window. I go to the ladies' room and make a note of these things surreptitiously. I don't dare go there too often, though, for fear I'll be identified, so sometimes I run back to my office, two blocks away. So it goes till about 4 o'clock, when I add thither, high and low, looking for trouble. It doesn't do a clerk any good to be unseen to me. I can tell you, or to make me wait too long for my change, but I try to be fair. And I feel a particularly strong and considerate sales person down that same goes in my report too. You might suppose that there'd be good graft in that, but, of course, in my position only so long as the head of the firm has absolute confidence in my integrity. The funny part of it is that the more I complain the better he likes it. I'm like the opposition party in congress. I'm never satisfied. When I am I'll have to look for another position.

At 4 o'clock I go back to my little office and dictate my report from my notes to a stenographer, and when it's typewritten I send it to the head of the firm.

Ended the Dispute.

Two ladies at a tea party got quarreling about their respective ages. At last to end the dispute one of them said in a conciliatory tone of voice:

"Don't let us quarrel over the matter any more, dear. I, at least, have not the least to do it. I never knew who my mother was, for she deserted me when I was a baby, and who knows but that you may have been that heartless parent?"

The Responsible Party.

Visiting Relative—How arbitrarily your father looks with all that gray hair! The Naughty Son—Yes, and he's got me to thank for it too.—Puck.

Would Always Be Busy.

Not long since on a village in the north of Scotland, the parish minister meeting a farm servant who is a member of his flock, the following conversation ensued:

Parish Minister—Well, John, and how are things doing with you? I hope you are keeping well.

Farm Servant—Hoch, sir, it's hard work I has to dae. Nae rest from morn tae nicht. Work an' work, an' no' a minute's peace for me.

Parish Minister—Well, John, we must all do our share in the work of this world. Remember, it is only the preparation for a better world, where there will be no more work to be done.

Farm Servant—Weel, sir, that may be for the likes o' you, but I'm no' sae sure that there will be anything for me to dae in the other world. It will be the same thing there, and I'll be told, "John, clean the sun," "John, hang out the moon," "John, light the stars," and so on. I've nae doubt they'll find always something for me to do, unlucky man that I am.

A Story of Browning.

Browning himself couldn't always explain his meaning at first reading. Dr. Furnivall, founder of the English Browning society, frequently consulted the poet as to the meaning of some passage in his works. "Some one," Browning would say, "I really have forgotten what I did mean, and as I haven't got a copy of my works by me I really can't enlighten you. Just run the book, there's a good fellow. I'll look it over at my leisure and try to find out what was in my mind at the time."

Useless Study.

Mr. Ford Father reproved his little son for having only 75 per cent in arithmetic. "Mathematics, my boy," he said, "is a very useful study, and you must try to do better."

"I thought that was only useful for sailors," said the boy.

"Why for sailors?"

"Well, people on land have adding machines, don't they?"—New York Tribune.

ITCHING ECZEMA WASHED AWAY.

Is it worth 25 cents to stop that awful agonizing itch? Surely you will spend 25 cents on your druggist's recommendation, to cool and heal and soothe that terrible itching eruption?

By arrangement with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, we are able to make a special offer of a 25 cent bottle of their oil of wintergreen compound, known as D. D. D. Prescription. Call, or write or telephone to Hankins' Drug Store.

We absolutely know that the itch is stopped at once by D. D. D. Prescription and the cures all seem to be permanent.

TO FIND FAULT.

People Are Sometimes Paid For That Express Purpose.

You have no idea how many things are wrong in a big business until you are paid to look for them, writes Gelett Burgess in Collier's. There were the clocks, for one thing, when I first began. The girls wore too many rats in their hair, there was grease on the elevator doors, expensive hats were dumped one on another, the ventilation was bad, the boxes on the shelves showed from the street through the show windows and about a thousand other things. Then Spindelheim sold teapots just like our eighteen cent ones for 14 cents, and for a concern like Smith & Co. to be undersold is fatal. There's really nothing that so enrages Mr. Smith; also Rubinstein's window dresser has beaten ours, too, at times. Down it goes in my little report. Wouldn't any woman love my job.

Yes, it's fun to be paid for being a misanthrope, but it's hard work too. At 9 o'clock I begin my promenade through the store—downstairs, upstairs, basement, attic and annex. If a girl at the counter has dirty finger nails or too wide a pompadour to suit me I stop and talk pleasantly, buy 9 cents' worth of edging and so get her number from the sales slip. She never knows anything about it till her superintendent gives her a scolding the next day. I have eyes like a hawk and a nose like a hound and ears like a small boy under the sofa when a young man's calling on big sister. In ten minutes I have spotted the dust in the corner of the aisle, a girl who wears brass bracelets, a porter who is not attending to his duty, a badly arranged counter, an error in spelling on a placard, two store detectives loafing on their job and a hideous combination of colors in the front window. I go to the ladies' room and make a note of these things surreptitiously. I don't dare go there too often, though, for fear I'll be identified, so sometimes I run back to my office, two blocks away. So it goes till about 4 o'clock, hither and thither, nigh and yon, looking for trouble. It doesn't do a clerk any good to be uncivil to me, I can tell you, or to make me wait too long for my change, but I try to be fair, and if I find a particularly willing and considerate sales person down that name goes in my report too. You might suppose that there'd be good graft in that; but, of course, I keep my position only so long as the head of the firm has absolute confidence in my integrity. The funny part of it is that the more I complain the better he likes it. I'm like the opposition party in congress. I'm never satisfied. When I am I'll have to look for another position.

At 4 o'clock I go back to my little office and dictate my report from my notes to a stenographer, and when it's typewritten I send it to the head of the firm

Ended the Dispute.

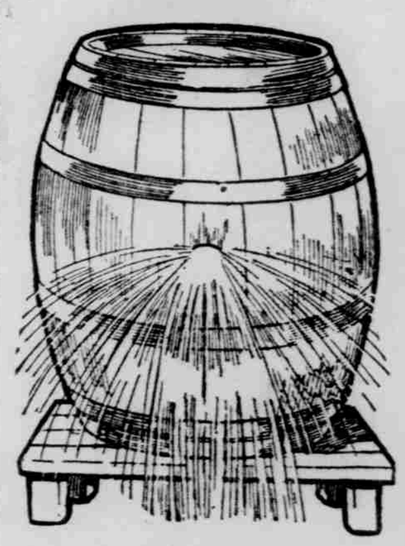

Two ladies at a tea party got quarreling about their respective ages. At last to end the dispute one of them said in a conciliatory tone of voice:

"Don't let us quarrel over the matter any more, dear. I, at least, have not the heart to do it. I never knew who my mother was, for she deserted me when I was a baby, and who knows but that you may have been that heartless parent?"

The Responsible Party.

Would Always Be Busy.

Not long since in a village in the north of Scotland, the parish minister meeting a farm servant who is a member of his flock, the following conversation ensued:

Parish Minister—Well, John, and how are things doing with you? I hope you are keeping well.

Farm Servant—Hech, sir, it's hard work I hae to dae. Nae rest from morn tae nicht. Work an' work, an' no' a minute's peace for me.

Parish Minister—Well, John, we must all do our share in the work of this world. Remember, it is only the preparation for a better world, where there will be no more work to be done.

Farm Servant—Weel, sir, that may be for the likes o' you, but I'm no' sae sure that there will be naething for me to dae in the other world. It will be the same thing there, and I'll be told, "John, clean the sun," "John, hang oot the moon," "John, light the stars," and so on. I've nae doubt they'll find always something for me to do, unlucky man that I am!

A Story of Browning.

Browning himself couldn't always explain his meaning at first reading. Dr. Furnivall, founder of the English Browning society, frequently consulted the poet as to the meaning of some passage in his works. "Bless me," Browning would say, "I really have forgotten what I did mean, and as I haven't got a copy of my works by me I really can't enlighten you. Just lend me the book, there's a good fellow. I'll look it over at my leisure and try to find out what was in my mind at the time."

Useless Study.

Mr. Fond Father reproved his little son for having only 75 per cent in arithmetic. "Mathematics, my boy," he said, "is a very useful study, and you must try to do better."

"I thought that was only useful for sailors," said the boy.

"Why for sailors?"

"Well, people on land have adding machines, don't they?" — New York Tribune.

Strange Lapse of Memory.

Cases of forgetfulness on matters of interest are on record. While Dr. Priestly was preparing his work entitled "Harmony of the Gospels" he had taken great pains to inform himself on a subject which had been under discussion relative to the Jewish Passover. He wrote out the result of his researches and laid the paper away. His attention and time being taken with something else, some little time elapsed before the subject occurred to his mind again. Then the same time and pains were given to the subject that had been given to it before, and the results were again put on paper and laid aside. So completely had he forgotten that he had copied the same paragraphs and reflections before that it was only when he had found the papers on which he had transcribed them that it was recalled to his recollection. This same author had frequently read his own published writings and did not recognize them.

A Question For the King.

Divinity doth not always hedge a king. There have been many rulers who could take as well as give in the joking line. The most striking instance of this kind is seen in the case of Charles II., that good natured Stuart, who once asked his chaplain, Dr. Stillingfleet:

"How is it that you always read your sermons before me when, as I understand, you can preach eloquently enough elsewhere without book or notes?"

The good doctor answered that he was so overwhelmed by his majesty's presence that he could not trust himself otherwise, continuing, "And now, sire, may it please you to tell me why you read your speeches when you have no such excuse?"—St. Louis Republic

Her Own Coin.

There was quite a scene the other night at a certain bridge party. A loser paid a lady with her own I. O. U.'s. The lady said it was most ungentlemanly. She said she wouldn't have minded being paid back in her own coin, but she disliked paper money.—Exchange.

The Harder Part.

"It is hard to teach an old dog new tricks," quoted the wise guy.

"Yes. It's hard to find the new tricks," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

Well Bred.

Gentleman—That looks a well bred dog. Owner—I should think he was well bred. Why, he won't have a bit of dinner till he's got his collar on!

Coffee Drinking Denounced.

As early as 1661 coffee was satirized in England, and on every hand the bitterest invectives were applied to it by the press and pulpit. In one instance a preacher hurled anathemas at the heads of those who used as a beverage "a sirup of soot and essence of old shoes!" Probably he had good grounds for this statement, having sampled some boiled coffee. Another divine denominated it "a poison which God made black that it might bear the devil's color!" The women also took up the cudgels against it.—London Mail.

HEART TREASURES.

In the windows of a church hangs a beautiful painting of the Madonna and the Child.

The picture cost $1,000 and was donated by a member of the church. The donor, you conclude, was some wealthy member of the congregation.

No.

The picture was presented by one of the humblest members, Mrs. Anna Kuehn, a widow and a wash-woman.

The story that goes with the picture is greater than the picture—and more beautiful.

The gift was a memorial of the poor woman's dead boy, her only child, who died at the age of eight years, several years ago.

By patient toil at the washtub, by the most pinching economy, Mrs. Kuehn saved the thousand dollars.

When the reporters visited her humble home this woman, who had given much more than the "widow's mite," who had given grinding years of toil and anxious hours of close savings, asked that her name should not be used.

"It was for my little boy who died," she said. "It makes no difference to other people."

"A waste of good money," says the utilitarian.

Let's see.

Do you remember the immortal story of the woman who poured her costly ointments at the feet of the Christ 2,000 years ago?

And do you remember what the disciples said?

They said it was a waste of money—the foolish woman should have sold the precious spices and given the money to the poor.

The Master saw it differently.

He knew better than his poor fishermen followers the tremendous value of a genuine sentiment. He rightly estimated the priceless rarity of a real heart tribute.

And so exalted a place did he find for the fine act of that woman that he declared her story should be told to the ends of the earth. And it has been so told.

Why does the world still hug to its heart that Bethany story?

Why is the world touched by the tale of the poor woman who hid in her heart a great picture in honor of her baby boy?

Why? Because, my friend, there are things of more value in this world than money or success or fame or pleasure. Kill in the heart of a woman her love for her child and nothing remains.

The light of the whole world dies
When love is done.

New Year's Bells.

Paulinus, bishop of Nola, introduced the bell into the Christian worship in the year 400 A. D. The first bells were made in Campania; hence the term campanile, or bell tower. The adoption of the bell into the services of the church soon gave the chimes the comforter's office in the minds of the devout. In their simple faith the worshipers believed that consecrated bells had the power to prevent storms, to drive away evil spirits and to bring repose to the sufferer.

The direct forerunner of the New Year's bell is what was known as the "passing bell." This was rung at the death of a believer. In theory devils troubled the expiring patient. Moreover, they lay in wait to trouble the soul the instant it passed from the body. But the peals of a consecrated bell were believed to possess a potency that the most malignant of devils could not withstand; hence with every death the ringing of the holy bells exorcised the evil spirits and assured the soul a happy passing into a future of untroubled peace.

From this ancient custom developed easily and naturally the habit of ringing out the old year and ringing in the new. The parallel between the death of a human being and the death of the spent old year is clear enough. All that was evil in the old year, all that it had brought of misfortune and worry, was supposed to be resolved into nothing by the music of bells ascending the starlit skies at the mysterious midnight moment of transition.

Why does the world still hug to its heart that Bethany story?

Why is the world touched by the tale of the poor woman who hid in her heart a great picture in honor of her baby boy?

Why? Because, my friend, there are things of more value in this world than money or success or fame or pleasure. Kill in the heart of a woman her love for her child and nothing remains.

The light of the whole world dies
When love is done.

New Year's Bells.

Paulinus, bishop of Nola, introduced the bell into the Christian worship in the year 400 A. D. The first bells were made in Campania; hence the term campanile, or bell tower. The adoption of the bell into the services of the church soon gave the chimes the comforter's office in the minds of the devout. In their simple faith the worshipers believed that consecrated bells had the power to prevent storms, to drive away evil spirits and to bring repose to the sufferer.

The direct forerunner of the New Year's bell is what was known as the "passing bell." This was rung at the death of a believer. In theory devils troubled the expiring patient. Moreover, they lay in wait to trouble the soul the instant it passed from the body. But the peals of a consecrated bell were believed to possess a potency that the most malignant of devils could not withstand; hence with every death the ringing of the holy bells exorcised the evil spirits and assured the soul a happy passing into a future of untroubled peace.

From this ancient custom developed easily and naturally the habit of ringing out the old year and ringing in the new. The parallel between the death of a human being and the death of the spent old year is clear enough. All that was evil in the old year, all that it had brought of misfortune and worry, was supposed to be resolved into nothing by the music of bells ascending the starlit skies at the mysterious midnight moment of transition.

A SHOCKING NEW YEAR'S DIVORCE.

OLD pipe of mine, we've got to part.
I leave you soon forever.
Though you are twined about my heart,
We'll meet in future—never.
I'll swear you've faithful been and true,
You've put dull care to chase,
But there has come 'twixt you and me
That woman in the case.

WE'VE GOT TO PART.

OLD pipe of mine, the day dawned drear
When from me you must roam.
No longer may I know the cheer
You brought into my home;
No longer when the shadows fall
And night comes on apace
I'll take you up. Oh, cup of gall
That woman in the case!

I LOVED you first, I hear you say,
I pledged my truth to you,
And I have loved you from that day
I promised to be true.
'Tis so, but I was young and green,
A youth with heedless face.
I little thought there'd come between
That woman in the case.

A YOUTH WITH HEEDLESS FACE.

YOU were my love in days of old.
Old pipe, I love you still,
But there's a woman in the fold
That has a stronger will.
Forever from my life you're banned,
Denied your fav'rite place.
Ejected by supreme command,
The woman in the case.

NO longer when my heart grows sad
Will you bring peace to me.
The comforts you could I have had
In future cannot be.
You will not soothe my aching brow,
My drooping spirits brace.
There stands between us now
The woman in the case.

ANOTHER SUBJECT MY HEART.

OLD pipe, farewell, a long farewell,
For you and I must part.
With me no longer may you dwell,
Another rules my heart.
You think I'm cowardly to so
Desert you in disgrace,
But then, old pipe, you do not know
The woman in the case.

OLD WORLD ARMIES

Drafting Methods by Which Their Strength Is Maintained.

TRICKS OF THE CONSCRIPTS.

All Manner of Dodges Are Adopted by the Eligible Young Men to Avoid the Enforced Military Service That Is So Hateful to Them.

We hear a good deal about conscription, but few people know what it actually means. In no country is every person who is able to fight drafted into the army. All males who are liable to serve undergo a physical examination, resulting in only a certain number being passed as fit for service.

No government has sufficient funds to draft the whole of those men into the regular army, so a selection is made by ballot, the number of men enrolled varying according to the funds in the hands of the authorities.

The pay provided for the conscript is necessarily very trifling indeed and will not compare with that paid to volunteer soldiers. In fact, it is generally true that the conscript must fall back upon his private means.

The methods vary in each country. But take the case of one European power. Every male subject not physically incapacitated is liable to enter the army at the age of twenty, although those who care to enlist may do so at eighteen.

A register is kept of all the youths who reach the age of twenty in the particular year. Men under five feet two inches in height are exempt from service, as well, of course, as those who suffer from natural infirmities which render them unsuitable for active service.

Other men are also exempt if they have helpless dependents—thus the only son of a widow or of a disabled father, the latter category also including the only son of a father who is above seventy years of age. Then the eldest of a family of orphans is exempt, and in the case of two sons only one is liable, there being various other exemptions.

The army served by the conscript is one of twenty-five years, three years being spent in the regular army, six and one-half in the army reserve, six in the territorial army and the remaining nine and a half years in the territorial reserve, all liability to service ceasing at forty-five.

The service is frequently so hated that all manner of methods are adopted in order to avoid it. In many cases subscriptions are provided by the wealthy, though there are stringent regulations with regard to the privileges of the subscribers.

In most European countries military malingering in order to avoid compulsory military service has reached the stage of a fine art. In fact, a formidable list of new crimes has been added to the statutes as a result, and medicians frequently have to suffer for their assistance in this pernicious kind of fraud.

Thus some time ago a number of Cologne doctors were arrested upon a charge of having administered pills to young conscripts. These pills consisted of drugs which produced the symptoms of heart disease so effectively as nearly to deceive the military authorities, with the result that the conscripts were declared unfit for service. In this case the fraud was brought to light by one of the conscripts dying as a result of an overdose of the medicine.

In Germany, where the conscript is frequently faced with the greatest hardships, there are very few towns where there are not specialists whose living depends solely in inducing such a condition of affairs as will render young men exempt by reason of sickness.

In the French army it is quite common for youths to feign all manner of ills, deafness being the usual ailment wanted in order to escape the service. As a result the military doctors have, in an especial study of methods of detecting feigned deafness and to trap the cunning youth who acts the part of a deaf mute.

Another common practice in France is to tamper with the eyesight, though this frequently results in permanent injury. For instance, short sight is produced by wearing powerful concave glasses for a considerable time despite the risk of bringing about permanent blindness. It is no uncommon occurrence for men to commit suicide rather than submit to forced service in the army.

In eastern Europe most brutal methods are adopted by parents in order that their sons may be able to work for them instead of serving in the army. The boys are frequently ill treated, and it is not at all uncommon even for their limbs to be broken or their sight to be destroyed in order to prevent any likelihood of their having to become soldiers.

Switzerland probably has the cheapest army and the least burdensome methods of conscription, the service being much lighter than in the other continental armies. Indeed, the conscript to the infantry army has to undergo actual training for only 135 days during the entire period of his service. —Philadelphia Ledger.
